SUMMARY

Computer Science graduate (University of Nigeria, Nsukka, 2018) transitioning into data analytics, with four years of hands-on experience reading user behaviour and building trust-driven systems across crypto and social media communities. Founded and grew a crypto exchange platform from 5 to 500+ users in a market defined by scams, where trust and consistency — not promotions — drove retention. Currently building Python, data analysis, and AI-assisted skills to bring that same evidence-based thinking to data-driven teams.
